Section D : Customer Questionnaire for Algorithmic Trading

[8] In addition to the 50 states and the District of Columbia, the following territories are part of the United States: Puerto Rico, Northern Marianas Islands, Guam,

If your Business Entity is engaged in Algorithmic trading and has a U.S. person that works on any aspects of the Algorithms used for trading on Binance.com, please answer the below questions.

[9] "Authorized Trader" includes any natural person who by power of attorney or otherwise actually directs the trading of the user account. A natural person who makes specific decisions to place, cancel, or modify orders for a trading account, for example, would be considered as actually directing the account. Directing trading could also include situations in which a controller exercises discretion over the trading of the account, either directly or indirectly. In the case of indirect control, a controller might provide instructions to another person regarding trading decisions. Persons whose authority in the hierarchy of an organization would permit them to direct the trading of an account if they so choose are not account controllers unless they actually direct such an account. Binance would not expect, for example, to see an organization's CEO or COO identified as an authorized trader unless such person actually directs the trading of the account. Similarly, persons whose responsibility in an organization would make them responsible for the financial performance of an account are not trading account controllers unless they also actually direct the account.

In the context of algorithmic trading, if control over the algorithm's trading is divided among individuals over the course of a trading day, all the individuals should be considered Authorized Traders if they meet the Authorized Trader definition.

[8] In addition to the 50 states and the District of Columbia, the following territories are part of the United States: Puerto Rico, Northern Marianas Islands, Guam,

Appendix 1 to Section II: Defined Terms

Affiliate (or "affiliated") means, with respect to the Business Entity, any Person where (i) the Business Entity owns a majority interest, directly or indirectly, in such Person; (ii) a third party directly or indirectly owns a majority interest in the Business Entity and such Person; or (iii) directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with such Business Entity.

Audit means an objective examination or inspection of the books and records or books of account of a Person as conducted by an unaffiliated third party.

Books and records means the books, accounts, records, memoranda, correspondence, papers and other documentation or information used in connection with the management and operation of the Business Entity.

Books of account means the records, books, ledgers, registers and similar records in which the financial information and transactions of the Business Entity are recorded and maintained.

Control (including the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with") means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting interests, as trustee or executor, as general partner or managing member, by contract or otherwise, including the ownership, directly or indirectly, of interests having the power to elect a majority of the board of directors or similar body governing the affairs of such Person.

Direct and allocated expenses means both (i) the liabilities, debts, expenses, fees and costs that are incurred by the Business Entity and (ii) the allocable portion of expenses incurred by any broader group of which the Business Entity is a party (including any affiliates) for the benefit of the Business Entity.

FTE employees means full-time equivalent employees, where part-time employees can be added together to derive the full-time equivalent. For example, if 20 people work solely, and full-time, on the operations of a Business Entity, the Business Entity has 20 FTEs. If all 20 of those employees work half-time, the Business Entity has 10 FTE employees. Similarly, if all 20 of those employees work full-time but devote half their time to the operations of a separate entity, the Business Entity has 10 FTE employees. For purposes of this definition, the number of hours considered "full time" is the number of hours actually considered "full time" by the Business Entity (but if that number is less than 30 hours per week, then "full time" shall mean 30 hours per week).

GAAP means the United States generally accepted accounting principles and practices.

IBO Corporate Entity means a non-natural person who, directly or indirectly, ultimately owns or controls, including through a trust structure, 25% or more of the issued share capital or interests in the legal entity or arrangement.

IFRS means International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board from time to time.

Intangible assets means an asset that are considered to be intangible assets under GAAP, including customer lists, computer software, copyrights, trade names, trademarks, patents, franchises and licenses.

Intercompany service agreements means agreements or contracts, formal or informal, made between two or more affiliates for the provision of any service.

Ordinary-course liabilities means liabilities that are incurred by the Business Entity in the ordinary course of business.

Parent means the non-natural Person that possesses the ability to control the Business Entity.

Person means an individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, syndicate, person, trust, association, organization or other entity, and including any successor, by merger or otherwise, of any of the foregoing.

Tangible assets means all tangible personal property and interests therein, including machinery, computers and accessories, furniture, office equipment, communications equipment, inventory, vehicles, automobiles and other such physical assets.

Ultimate Beneficial Owner means the natural person(s) who, directly or indirectly, ultimately owns or controls, including through a trust structure, the Business Entity.
